1 | INTRODUCTION

Through academic representation, and valuing the student voice, staff and students can become partners in improving the educational experience for all current and prospective students.

This guidance seeks to provide an overview of the mechanisms for capturing the student voice, and the culture and ethos which must be fostered to ensure staff and students feel able to collaborate to improve the Ulster University experience for everyone.

This guidance intends to provide staff and students with a clear framework on which to build a practical, useful and active student representation system, allowing students and staff to work together to improve their institution.

Overall responsibility for ensuring Ulster University adheres to the spirit and values of student representation within this document sits with the Pro-Vice Chancellor (Education) and UUSU President.

They will be supported by the Students' Union, with the Academic Representation Coordinator leading support for reps within any student voice role. Each Associate Dean (Education) will lead institutional support within their Faculty for the student voice through academic representation.

2 | PRINCIPLES OF EFFECTIVE REPRESENTATION AND PARTNERSHIP

The term 'partnership' has been embedded in the lexicon of higher education for the past decade.

Intertwined with the term 'student engagement' it has become a common approach underpinning successful staff-student collaborations in quality assurance and enhancement processes within universities.

Through the QAA Section B5 of the quality code a national expectation and definition of partnership within this context was provided in 2013:

'.....partnership working is based on the values of: openness; trust and honesty; agreed shared goals and values; and regular communication between the partners.

It is not based on the legal conception of equal responsibility and liability; rather partnership working recognises that all members in the partnership have legitimate, but different, perceptions and experiences. By working together to a common agreed purpose, steps can be taken that lead to enhancements for all concerned.

The terms reflect a mature relationship based on mutual respect between students and staff.'

By following this Student Voice Guidance and its values, Faculties, Schools, Departments, Courses and Programmes will ensure that Student Representatives can add to academic enhancement and the student experience with appropriate staff support.

To achieve this, Faculties should monitor student representation and engagement within their area.

ULSTER UNIVERSITY STAFF STUDENT PARTNERSHIP VALUES

The following values underpin all staff-student partnerships at Ulster:

AUTHENTICITY

Students and staff will work together in a non-tokenistic way to build a culture of trust and respect in which everyone's views are valued.

02

EXCELLENCE

There will be willingness to change and an intent to strive for excellence within the learning and teaching environment at Ulster.

03

SUPPORT

The University and UUSU will create and nurture opportunities for staff and students to have creative and meaningful discussions about their education experience. Staff will work to ensure students feel able to join in constructive discussion in a safe and non-critical space.

04

TRUST

Everyone will work openly, accepting that the outcomes will not be pre-determined but that issues can be explored and alternative ideas put forward and discussed.

TRANSFORMATION

Working in partnership will be a transformative experience for all.

PRINCIPLES OF EFFECTIVE REPRESENTATION

The partnership values underpin how staff and students should work together and the attitudes/behaviours required. The principles for representation provide an overview of the practical elements which should always be employed:

- All students should have equal opportunity each year to self-nominate for the Course Rep role and, with the required experience, for both School/Dept and Faculty Rep positions.
- School/Departments should aim to have a minimum of two Reps in place per year of each Course/Subject group (including placement).
- Where demand is higher, a higher ratio is welcomed.
- For course with a large, or particularly diverse student body more representatives may be identified to ensure representation across the cohort, for example, can be mature student or international student representatives.
- Course Representatives will be appointed through an election process. The Students' Union will provide the opportunity for online elections.
- As volunteers, student reps should be fully supported by staff and the institution in the role to attend training, meetings or other related activities.
- Reps should be reassured that they will convey student opinion without fear of personal negative bias.
- Representation is seen, recognised and valued as impactful by all. To increase the quality of feedback and level of engagement students should feel that their views are valued and have a real impact on the future delivery of teaching and the learning experience.
- As well as encouraging dialogue, effective academic representation should also involve:
 - Being open and responsive to feedback
 - Completing the feedback loop
 - Celebrating the success of the course/programme community

3 | REPRESENTATION STRUCTURE

Guided by this Student Voice Framework, elected student reps represent the collective student opinion on everything impacting on your learning experience.

SCOPE OF MEETINGS

There are a number of key meetings within the University and Students' Union for academic representatives:

STAFF STUDENT CONSULTATIVE COMMITTEE (SSCC):

This course level meeting will be based around all areas of the student learning experience. Here Course Representatives can raise good practice as well as issues that students have experienced on their academic areas.

Course Representatives should also be briefed on learning and teaching developments and proposed changes at Ulster University that students have experienced on their academic areas. Course Representatives should also be briefed on learning and teaching developments and proposed changes at Ulster University.

FACULTY BOARD:

Working alongside a full time UUSU officer, membership of this committee should allow Faculty Reps to engage with discussions based around all areas of the student learning experience at this higher level. They should also have the opportunity to escalate feedback from course and school level.

UUSU STUDENT VOICE FORUM:

This student led campus meeting brings together all academic reps to network and discuss current developments around learning and teaching at Ulster University each semester.

The Student Voice forum is led by the campus VP and School/Department Reps. Issues raised will then be actioned by the relevant representative with University staff. University staff will be invited to attend and contribute to relevant meetings.

UNIVERSITY & STUDENTS' UNION FORUM:

This is a joint meeting between Senior University staff and UUSU Student Officers. Whilst this is not exclusively an academic forum, it will discuss and consider the student experience and is a key opportunity for issues and enhancements to be discussed.

INFORMAL MEETINGS:

In addition to these formal meetings, staff and students are encouraged to meet informally for updates and to enhance communication. This will be especially important at School/Department and Faculty level where the more formal meetings may not allow for discussion or networking.

4 | LEADS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

There are a range of stakeholders involved in the delivery of effective academic representation, including:

ACADEMIC REPRESENTATIVES

The term Academic Representative is used as an umbrella term for all levels of representation. Representation exists at every level of the University, as explained within each below.

1. COURSE REPS

Any student engaged in representation at course or programme level e.g. Class or Programme Representatives. By actively seeking student opinion Course Reps volunteer their time to act as the official, elected voice of their course colleagues. Collaborating with Course/Subject directors and their Students' Union, Course Reps enable and improve communication with the student body, feed into quality assurance processes, and are pro-active in helping to resolve issues relating to the student learning experience.

Course Reps should also attend their SSCC (Staff Student Consultative Committee) meetings. Course Representatives will also be expected to liaise with their school's academic societies to encourage collaboration.

2. SCHOOL/DEPARTMENT REP

One or two experienced students (depending on campus split) are elected to provide a broader view of the student experience at Ulster and to support and mentor course reps from within their School/Department.

The School/Department Rep will meet with their Head of School/Department at least once per semester. They will also liaise with Faculty staff and their Students' Union to progress issues past course level and pro-actively find resolutions and improvements to the student learning experience. A group of School/Department Reps are also expected to lead on the UUSU Learning & Teaching Awards.

3. FACULTY REP

One experienced student is elected to convene representation across the Faculty, supporting School/Department Representatives and Course Representatives, and to represent the student voice at Faculty-level committees with their full time UUSU Officer. This group of engaged students will also be involved in quality assurance mechanisms such as revalidation to ensure student opinion is relevant and accurate in this process.

ULSTER UNIVERSITY STUDENTS' UNION

ACADEMIC REPRESENTATION COORDINATOR:

Will lead on academic representation for the Students' Union. This will include responsibility for coordinating elections, delivering training and provision of developmental opportunities with day to day support to Academic Reps.

STUDENT OFFICERS:

Each VP Academic and Student Affairs is responsible for ensuring accurate, autonomous academic advice and support is provided across the representation structure and for representing the Student Voice at higher institutional committees.

ULSTER UNIVERSITY

1. COURSE/SUBJECT DIRECTOR:

Will lead on facilitating academic representation and support for Course reps within their programme. This includes assisting UUSU with elections and coordinating regular Staff Student Consultative Meetings.

2. STUDENT ADVOCATE

Member of staff within each School/Department nominated by the Head of School/Department. The Student Advocate will act as the key School/Department contact for matters relating to the Academic Representation system, working closely with the UUSU Academic Representation Coordinator and the Associate Dean for Education within each Faculty. They will be an additional point of contact and support for Academic Representatives.

3. FACULTY ASSOCIATE DEAN OF EDUCATION

This member of staff will be the key person for the Faculty Representatives. They will provide support for the representative, and also be the key contact for raising issues or suggestions that arise across the faculty.

4. SCHOOL/DEPARTMENT SUPPORT STAFF

Responsible for providing administrative support for the functioning of SSCC's and the Academic Representatives scheme within their School/Department.

5. WIDER STUDENT AND STAFF BODY

Responsible for engaging with the representation system and upholding its values. All stakeholders are responsible for developing a positive culture committed to receiving, responding and recognising the value of students' views, and to discussing current learning, teaching and research issues with students.

Communication and information sharing is critical with students and staff engaging in evidence-based discussions based on the mutual sharing of information.

5 | FEEDBACK MECHANISMS

SSCC meetings are the most important meeting for reps and staff on each course. A record of the discussion should be captured through an action list (template available) – full minutes are not required internally, however some professional bodies may request these.

Feedback shows that it can be difficult to engage reps with SSCC meetings, and attendance can sometimes be an issue. To ensure this doesn't happen, staff should try to create and maintain an informal environment for these. It is important to consider the timing of meetings to ensure they are accessible, and the balance between staff and students is appropriate. It is advisable that staff are kept to a minimum to allow students to feel comfortable sharing their views.

Schools and Departments should ensure Course/Subject Directors will have access to a small discretionary budget to facilitate the SSCC function and Support Academic Representation generally within the School. Underpinned by the values for staff student partnership, meetings should be as informal and as student focused as possible to encourage pro-active engagement and feedback from reps.

SUPPORTING STUDENT ENGAGEMENT WITH SSCCS

Course Reps will receive training from UUSU on how to most effectively communicate with their peers and ensure they are representative and known amongst their peers:

- There are a number of ways in which the School/Department can assist with this, for example:
- Providing an email list for Course Reps to contact their class;
- Assigning class time for reps to talk to students, without staff being there
- Creating a noticeboard within the School office with photographs of the reps and contact details;
- Replicating this noticeboard online in Course Support Areas;
- Posting outcomes of meetings within the Course Support Areas.

This support will encourage reps to be proactive and increase the awareness of the representation system as an effective way to improve the student experience.

RESPONDING TO ISSUES:

As noted, a key feature of effective academic representation is ensuring that issues raised are responded to, even when the response is a clear rationale as to why further action is not possible. Where an issue has been reported by SSCCs, higher level committees will ensure the SSCC receive a response.

Course Representatives are responsible for feeding information back down to the student body. On a wider scale, and to demonstrate the value of Academic Representation, successful examples of representation resulting in positive improvements for Ulster University will be shared across the University as part of a joint Ulster University/Students' Union 'You Said, We Did' campaign.

Staff and Course Representatives should jointly disseminate and recognise the enhancements made to the student educational experience, and the efforts of students in achieving these successes.

Additionally, the Students' Union will share successes that have occurred due to Academic Representation, when made aware, to the wider student membership via news articles, blogs or newsletters as well as to the wider Course Representative network.

6 | ELECTION OF ACADEMIC REPRESENTATIVES

The Students' Union will provide recruitment and promotional material on how to become an Academic Rep to Course Teams and Schools/Departments with best practice guidelines.

To make the representative process as fair as possible, all positions will be elected centrally and online through the Students' Union via uusu.org

TIMELINE FOR ELECTIONS

There will be an online nomination and voting period where all students will be able to elect their Academic Representatives, which will be set in line with the dates of the semester.

Course Reps: Nominations open for Course Rep positions in Week 0 and run until Week 3 of Semester 1. Elections will be held in Week 4 of Semester 1.

School/Dept and Faculty Reps: Nominations for these roles open in Week 1 of Semester 2, with elections taking place in Week 9.

These positions are part of the UUSU Leadership Campaign. Details are available via UUSU.ORG > VOICE.

Only representatives elected through this system will be recognised by UUSU and Ulster University as certified representatives. Promotion of elections are the responsibility of both Ulster University Students' Union and Ulster University, both centrally and within Schools, Departments and Faculties.

7 | TRAINING AND SUPPORT FOR STUDENTS AND STAFF

The Students' Union will provide training and ongoing support for Course, School/Dept and Faculty Representatives. The Students' Union will provide face to face and online events for all levels of representation throughout the Academic Year.

Academic Staff who have significant responsibility for Academic Representatives will also be offered ongoing support and advice from the Students' Union, CHERP and through University learning and teaching events.

Course Representatives are volunteer positions which provide a valuable contribution to the University as well as to an individual's personal development. Academic Representatives will be trained and receive ongoing support and development opportunities and can feed their experience into the Ulster University Edge Award.

STUDENTS & STAFF RECOGNISING REPS

In addition, the Students' Union will acknowledge the value of academic representation as a category within the UUSU Learning & Teaching Awards. This category will be open to students and staff to nominate any student representative who complies with the criteria
